TERMS.

That we are about to strand our ship of State upon a rock which our fathers saw and avoided, is equally evident to him who has read the history of the formation and adoption of our Constitution. The interence arises that the same wisdom, forbearance and patriotism exerercised by our Fathers in 1788, would now save us in the present home of danger.

He at the least, while the Macedonian requires 20. From this fact it would seem that the announcement of these ships being ordered in read. Increase was premature. same wisdom, forbearance and patriotism exerercised by our Fathers in 1788, would now save us in the present hour of danger.

I do not believe the masses are less wise or less patriotic now than they were then, but that we are both blind and deaf to existing danger.

We have so long slept in the security of living We have so long slept in the security of living under the best government in the world, drik-ing with our mothers milk the feeling that no shock could ever destroy it, that we cannot at once awake into a full consciousness of Gabger. You may convice both reason and the judgment of the existence of the danger, yet the heart still refuses to receive the conclusions or head the warnings. We cannot believe that our government has already accomplished its mission. There is an abiding faith still lurking in each of our hearts, that our gallaut ship will yet out-ride the storm, and that by some unforessen means the Federal Union shall still be preserved. But for the traitors and politicians preserved. But for the traitors and politicians we might safely leave this unwavering confidence of the masses, to work out a remedy for the present troubles. But the danger is, that the Directors (the office holders) will have torn down the editice before the stockholders (the people) assemble to examine its condition.

That a pillar is needed here or a bracket there, to support the additions which have been made to the original structure, will not be denied; but that our noble constitution has falled to perform every duty assigned it, cannot be ad mitted. If it had never been called to extend beyond the territory for which it was created, there is little doubt that the machine of government, complicated as it is, would have run moothly and without oil or repair for centuries. Our fathers grappled the questions before them and mastered them. In the science of government, then, the great question for their solution, was not to provide a government for the whole western continent, bus how to make one pliable enough to extend over the whole

How to unite all the thirteen different colonies with their vast extent of territory, was then a question upon which there was greater doubt, than there would be now, of the predicability of annexing and holding all the territory that adjoins us. By the avoidance by the framers of the Constitution, of all but the practical questions. tions before them, they achieved their success. If they had paused to provide for the distant future, so many questions would have crossded in prophetic vision, that they would probably have failed to agree upon any plan of govern

Their omission to provide the mode of acquisition of territory, and the relation it should bear if acquired, is the cause of the present sectional agitation. Yet scarcely any will deny that to have given the general government the power of unlimited expansion, and to have rested in Congress, in direct terms, the power of legislating for such acquired territory, would have made the Constitution so odious, that it would never have been even submitted to a vote of the people of the several States.

The fact then that our government, instead of merely answering its appointed purpose has over run half a continent, and now needs some little mendment to adapt it to its ne disparagement of the wisdom of its framers, or the perfection of the system.

In administering the government over terri-tory, in relations for which it was not intend-ed, difference of opinion naturally arose as to its application, and it becomes a question, rather what the Constitution should mean, than what it does mean. Different interests provoke different views, controversy arises, and grows in bitterness in proportion to the interests involv-ed, prejudices are aroused, and a sectional char acter is obtained

If is natural that the people from respect for their government, and confidence in the integrity of their rulers, should for some time submit to such an application to the government, as their judgment may not approve, but whenever the whole nation becomes divided into par-tics, bound together by a common desire to administer the government on certain principles, it is idle to expect a peaceful or long continued submission to any line of policy that is not sanctioned by the guaranty of a written Constitution or the algorithms. tion, or the strong arm of power. The domi-nant party of to-day claims its success as a ver-dict in favor of its construction of duty, and overturns the work of the dominant party of yesterday, and if the interests involved are im-portant and sectional in character, collision peedily follows.

In this view of the matter I am constrained the opinion that there is no permanent remedy for the existing crisis, except in additions or amendments of the Constitution, upon these three points :

1st. The mode in which territory shall be so 2d. The relation of acquired territory to the Federal Government and the States.

3d. The remedy and redress of individual States aggrieved by federal legislation.

Any legislative compromise on these questions would bind no longer then the party making it remains in power, and would increase rather than diminish the hostility of different factions, being regarded as a party victory or defeat.

If the unanimity necessary to embody some settled policy on there questions can be obtained, the questions I trust, at least, in their present form would be disposed of forever.

The present is the most favorable time we eball, perhaps, ever have for the settlement of these questions. If we wait (it delay were possible) until we have large territories with fierce and bitter struggle in progress therein, between opposing principles, the attempt would be both fruitless and disastrous. The issue is now fairly made and must be fairly met. If there is not strength enough in our Government to bear the shock, then is representative government a failure.

The South cannot now recede without some gua-antica of fundamental concessions, because to do so, would be to surrender the government to do so, would be to surrender the government loto a settled anti slavery policy. The North cannot yield to all the claims of the South without re opening the slave trade and becoming instruments for the extension of slavery. Neither will crought to be satisfied with any compromise that shall not be a permanent and final settlement, and irrepealable by a mere party majority. We want these amendments to the Constitution. How these shall be obtained will be considered in another article:

Hamilton.

The Army and Navy, and the Crisis.

Now that rumor is so busy with the alleged movement Southward of United States troops and naval vessels, it may not be out of place to give a statement of the forces likely to be credered for hostile service in South Carolina, should unfortunate circumstances render exterms measures necessary. If soldiers be required, Governor's laiand, New York, Carlisie, Pa, and the Navy Yards, will be the first places from which re-inforcements may be taken. The Sôû troops stationed at Fort Monroe, Fayetteville, N. C., Augusta, Key West, Banancos, and Baton Rouge, would not be removed. The available men, then, for military duty, are nearly as follows:

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the conever be its origin, it is hereditary in the con-stitution, descending "from parents to children anto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I ill visit the iniquities of the fathers upon heir children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, cruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have for This power to with plaints, but they have für Tess power to with-stand the attacks of other diseases; conse-quently vast numbers perish by diseases, which, although not secondous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which de-cinates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it.

To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and in-vigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is com-bined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Enurriva and SKIN DISEASES, St. ANTHONY'S FILL, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PUMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUNORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCUHIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DESPEDSIA, DEMELTY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITTAor on Inverse Broop. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY OURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, Indeed for the whole class of diseases originat-ing in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of Miasmatic Countries.

We are enabled here to offer the community a remedy which, while it cures the above complaints with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in districts where these afflicting disorders prevail. This "Cuar" expels the miasmatic poison of Frene and Ague from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Frene and Ague prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinilam or or mineral, consequently it produces no quintism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitu-tion. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

I ever and Ague is not alone the consequence of Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindmess, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hystericz, Pain in the Bowels, Cohe, Paralysis and Devangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cunn" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. It taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
